GIRL FOUND MURDERED IN WOODS

Negro Is Arrested in Nearby Hut, With Bloody Towel and Suspenders.

CHILD WAS ON WAY TO SCHOOL

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 14.—This city and neighborhood is in a ferment of excitement today over the discovery of a brutal crime, revealed when the mutilated body of 9-year-old Marie Smith, who had been missing from her home four days, was discovered in the woods near her home.

Thomas Williams, a negro known as "Black Diamond," is held on suspicion. He denies all knowledge of the crime, but a bloody towel found at his house was seized by the police.

Yesterday the body of the child was found half hidden by leaves. There were many evidences of a struggle. There was a deep scratch in the little girl's head, and the body was otherwise disfigured, and showed evidence that she had been mistreated.

The girl's mother is in a collapse and may die. The negro was arrested in his home. His suspenders were stained with what looked like blood and a towel was found on which bloody hands seemed to have been wiped. He was taken to jail and there was no attempt at lynching, though sentiment against him ran high.

Dalhart, Tex., Nov. 14.—A disastrous fire at 5 o'clock this morning destroyed two residences south of Dalhart, originating in S. Harvel's residence from a defective fuse, and spreading to the adjoining building and the contents of both buildings burned.

Harvel and family had a narrow escape, losing everything. The loss is $5,000, partly insured. A strong northeast wind was blowing and no water in that portion of the city prevented the firemen from saving anything.

GREAT MANY DEATHS FROM VIOLENCE IN WASHINGTON.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 14.—Nearly 2500 persons lost their lives by violence in the state of Washington during the two years preceding October 1, 1910, a proportion greater than in any other registration district in the civilized world, showing conditions that demand remedy, says state health commissioner Heg in his annual report. Of these violent deaths, 2119 were accidental, 89 accidental poisoning, 458 by suicide, and 146 by homicide.

Deaths from violence exceeded deaths from tuberculosis.

WATER FILLS THE CELLARS OF PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 14.—The river Seine, which has overflowed some of the lower parts of the city and threatened great damage, is stationary today.

At a conference today between premier Briand and the special inundation committee it was decided to rush the work of deepening the river and the construction of a canal for diverting the flood waters.

The low quarters at the eastern end of the city and part of the museum of natural history are inundated, and the subterranean passages to the Austerlitz station are flooded, gearways being improvised for passengers.

TOLSTOI'S WIFE BEGS TO JOIN HIM

Aged Author Is Without Funds; Makes Himself Voluntary Exile.
Tula, Russia, Nov. 14.—No effort will be made by his family to induce count Tolstoy to abandon his self-imposed exile and return to his peasant's hut at Yasnaya Polyana, which he recently deserted with the avowed purpose of spending the remainder of his days in solitude. His wishes are sacred to the countess, who, however, has sent a message to her husband, imploring that she be permitted to join him and share in the hardships which he has determined to experience.

Count Tolstoy, who is accompanied by his physician, Dr. Makovsky, is clad in a peasant's suit of rough material and wears high boots. He carries no passport and when he left home he took only $17 with him. However, his daughter, Alexandra, who had learned of her father's intentions, contrived to secure $150 in the doctor's pocket, so if the count suffers for the necessities of life it will be because he elects to do so.

TAFT REACHES PANAMA TO SEE THE CANAL.

Colon, Panama, Nov. 14.—President Taft arrived here this morning on board a United States States warship, to spend about four days inspecting the canal work.

The poor in the eastern suburbs, who were stricken last January, are again suffering severely.

Many residents already have moved out their furniture. It is feared several factories will be forced to close, throwing thousands out of work.

The river Marne is falling, but several of the smaller places along its banks are inundated.

HOW SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN GOT KILLED

Their Alignment With Western Federation Did It. Recall of Judges.

TAFT MAY DISAPPROVE MEASURE

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 14.—It is believed throughout Arizona that the organization of women which is seeking to secure equal suffrage is alone to blame for the failure to secure it. There is a story in this connection. Last summer a band of men got together in Phoenix and organized a labor party, and it got the endorsement of the Western Federation of Miners, then in session at Denver. It failed to get the approval of Samuel Gompers, however, who told the organizers they were making a serious mistake.

Anything with a Western Federation tag to it is anathema in Arizona among business men generally. Therefore the labor party was not at all popular within the territory.

Mrs. Francis Munds, of Prescott, president of the Arizona Equal Suffrage association, when the so-called labor party inserted in its platform a demand for equal suffrage, carried her whole organization to it, with open purse strings. Fifteen hundred dollars constituted her contribution to the warbag of the new political organization, it is claimed.

The story got out quickly. Mrs. Munds, in her zeal, was the first to announce it, and that ended the big chance then and there. Editors and voters alike figured that if the votes of the women of Arizona were to be given to Western Federation organizations, they wanted none of it.

Since then Miss Laura Gregg, of Kansas, one of the best organizers the national suffrage association ever put in the field, has been lobbying at Phoenix, but to no purpose. The answer has been written large by a vote which was more than three to one; the proposition to grant it a ballot to women on any terms in Arizona was turned down cold.

The Recall of Judges.

The recall proposition went through about as easily as woman's suffrage was killed. The principal objection to the recall is its action upon the judiciary.

It applies alike to the supreme justice and the justice of the peace. It affects the misconduct of constables as well as mayors and governors, while legislatures and judges are open to its provisions as councilmen. In fact, no office in the gift of the people is left safe from a revising of that gift should the public change its mind after election.

Republicans insist that as president Taft is a judge himself, he will permit the constitution to be ratified by congress and will never approve it himself, because he will not want the judicial ermine to be placed in a position to be dragged in the mire by politicians or corporations who may be hit by some judicial decision which they don't like.

For the initiative, the convention has fixed upon 10 percent, for the referendum five percent, and for the recall a petition bearing 25 percent of the names of the voters in the district affected, be it township, district or state. The reason for the recall must also be stated. Recall as well as other elections under this measure must be held within 60 days of the filing of the petition.

Where Saloons Win.

In Arizona the liquor question is a big issue and is growing larger each day. Several sections, including the whole of the Gila valley, are now dry. The constitutional convention delegates are pledged to separate submission of a statewide provision for prohibition at the same time the constitution is submitted for the people's votes. If this carries it becomes part of the constitution.

On the other hand county option is looked upon by the drys as a sheet anchor, for no one suspects this statewide provision to carry. Therefore the drys, of which there are many, insist that the convention provide initiative for counties. This, the convention refused to do, holding to the old theory of home rule for cities. In this it was backed up by a resolution passed at a special meeting of the Phoenix city council.

Phoenix has had several liquor elections and, while the city is wet, Phoenixians know well what would happen if votes cast in the county in such an election were allowed to count in the city.

MURDERER OF AN OKLAHOMA OFFICER NOT MEXICAN

Consul of Mexico at Kansas City Believes He Is of Another Nationality.

WAS RODRIGUEZ MEXICAN CITIZEN?

Mexico Not Able Yet to Establish This—No Riots Sunday in Mexico.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 14.—Oscar Optet, who is charged with the assassination of W. C. Temple, police chief of Anadarko, is not a Mexican in the opinion of Leon Gomez, Mexican consul here. He said Optet is not a Mexican name.

No trace has yet been found of Optet who escaped after killing chief of police Temple Saturday, although the police and posse are still scouring the hills around Anadarko. Although every effort will be made to prevent a lynching in view of the strained relations between Mexico and the United States, it is feared that the man, if caught, will fall a victim to the mob.

Mayor Plum of Anadarko has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the culprit and governor Haskell will offer an additional $200.

It has developed that Optet did not call chief Temple to his door and shoot him, as was first stated. Optet had trouble with companions in a saloon and was fleeing. He passed the home of Temple and the officer called to him to halt. It was then that Optet turned and fired.

Dispatches from Caddo county say that the entire populace is joining in the search for Optet. Bloodhounds were shipped in from the state reformatory at Granite and the county lines are guarded all the way around.

CAN'T ESTABLISH RODRIGUEZ CASE

Mexico Has Not Proved the Rock Springs Victim Was Not an American.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—It begins to appear that the United States is completely "in the clear" with Mexico. It is known that Mexico has been unable as yet to establish the Mexican citizenship of Antonio Rodriguez, burned at Rock Springs, Texas, and it is now reported that the supposed Mexican murderer who may be lynched if arrested in Oklahoma is not a Mexican. The Mexican consul at Kansas City wires that he does not believe the man is a Mexican.

The state department upon learning of the shooting of police chief Temple and that 200 men were searching for the assassin, a supposed Mexican, sent a telegram to the governor of Oklahoma to prevent summary vengeance if he is caught.

Ambassador de la Barra at once telegraphed the Mexican consul at Kansas City, who has supervision over the territory which includes Oklahoma, ordering a full investigation of the shooting. He gave special instructions to learn whether the assassin was a Mexican citizen. The consul wires today that he did not even believe the man was of Mexican nationality.

Senor de la Barra also is endeavoring to ascertain the nationality of Antonio Rodriguez, now reported to be a native New Mexican.

He got a telegram today from Antonio Lomeli, Mexican consul at El Paso, Texas, stating that there was no record in the El Paso office of the citizenship of Rodriguez, whose burning at Rock Springs caused the anti-American riots in Mexico.

NO RIOTS IN MEXICO SUNDAY

Streets Strongly Guarded in Guadalajara and Mexico City.

Mexico City, Mexico, Nov. 14.—Sunday, to which both the authorities and the American residents looked forward with more or less uneasiness, passed without renewal of the demonstrations of the last few days and the feeling that the end of the trouble had come, seemed general.

There was no relaxation of vigilance by the authorities and, during the day and night strong patrols of police were on guard in the business district and in the American residence section.

Dispatches from Guadalajara report no violence Saturday night or Sunday. A proclamation that any gathering of five or more persons on the streets would be dispersed by the police had a quieting effect on the students and the vicious element and no disturbance was attempted. Federal troops were patrolled the streets throughout the night.

JUSTIFIES ROCK SPRINGS BURNING

Paper Published in That Vicinity Reflects Feelings of People.

As showing the attitude of the people in the vicinity of Rock Springs, where Antonio Rodriguez was burned, an editorial in the Del Rio Herald probably states the case most plainly. That paper justifies the crime and praises the men who committed it because of the heinous offense which he had committed in murdering a woman with a babe in her arms when she "talked back to him," as he said after apprehension. Says the Herald:

"There has been some unfavorable (Continued on Page Nine.)"

ROBBERS DYNAMITE TEXLINE BANK; GET NO MONEY

After Two Attempts They Take Fright and Escape To the Mountains As Citizens Of Town Surround Bank After Being Aroused By the Explosions.

Dalhart, Texas, Nov. 14.—The bank of Texline, 30 miles north of Dalhart, was dynamited last night by yeggmen. Two explosions were made when the people living near were aroused and the robbers driven away. The burglars failed to get into the safe and did not get anything. This bank is a branch of the First National of Dalhart.

Responding to telephone calls, president Slaughter, with the sheriff and his deputies went to Texline on the first train and are now in hot pursuit of the robbers, who took to the mountains of New Mexico.

All damage to bank and fixtures is covered by insurance.

Texline, Texas, Nov. 14.—The safe of the Texline bank was blown open about 1 o'clock this morning. The explosion was heard by citizens who surrounded the bank at once, but the burglars escaped, without securing anything.

Windows were shattered all around by the explosion.

The robbers entered the bank by breaking open the front door. There is no clew to those attempting the robbery.

Officers are now investigating.

Strikers Disregard Interstate Traffic Signs In Rioting

Photograph of an Adams Express wagon, bearing the sign that it carries interstate commerce traffic only, which is being put on by express companies to protect their wagons and strike breakers from the strikers. These signs have enraged the strike breakers and most of the attacks by them have been made on these sign bearing wagons in particular.

SUPPOSED DRUNK MAN DIES IN CELL

Garcia Had Been Stabbed But Police Thought Him Intoxicated.

As a result of a stab wound, penetrating the large artery just above the heart, Pascual Garcia, a city street department employee, who lived at 131 Leon street, died Saturday night.

The man was found sitting on the curb in the 1100 block on South Oregon street about 11 o'clock Saturday night by officers Fletcher and Woods. Thinking he was drunk, they called the patrol wagon and sent him to the police station, where a search of his clothes did not reveal the wound, as he bled internally.

About 3:30 Sunday morning it was discovered that the man was dead. Dr. H. S. White then found the wound just above the heart. It is supposed to have been made by a stiletto. Dr. White stated that death was practically instantaneous, but officer Fletcher says he will swear the man tried to walk when he was being placed in the patrol wagon.

Mrs. Garcia declares that her husband had only $1 when he left the house Saturday night and that he was not addicted to drink.

ALL QUIET IN MEXICO FOLLOWING THE RIOTS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—A telegram from ambassador Wilson at Mexico City informs the state department that Sunday passed without any recurrence of anti-American outbreaks.

The fulfillment of president Taft's promise to president Diaz to bring about the punishment of persons who burned the Mexican, Antonio Rodriguez, at Rock Springs, Texas, and protect Mexicans in this country, appears to depend on the good will of the governors of Texas and Oklahoma.

Governor Campbell of Texas already has promised to make an investigation of the lynching and a telegram to the state department last night from governor Haskell in answer to an urgent request from secretary Knox to guard the safety of Mexicans in Oklahoma, and particularly to prevent an attempt to lynch the supposed Mexican who killed chief of police Temple at Anadarko, pledges the state government to comply with the request.
